Hawaii Modular Space Wins National Awards.

(Honolulu, HI—May 5, 2006)—Hawai'i Modular Space, Inc. (HMSI), Hawai'i's leading supplier of factory-built modular buildings, mobile offices and storage containers won two first place honors and an honorable mention at this year's Modular Building Institute Annual Convention & Trade Show.

HMSI received first place in the temporary, education, 2,000-10,000 square feet category for their work at Kamehameha Schools Windward Mall Preschool and the special application category for Hawaii Air National Guard Tower Simulator Shelter. HMSI's renovation of Kalaheo Elementary School received an Honorable Mention in the Renovated Reuse under 10,000 square feet category.

"Competing and winning against much larger national and international dealers is very gratifying for a local business like Hawaii Modular Space," says Guy Murakami, HMSI sales manager.

Annually, the Modular Building Institute (MBI) presents the Awards of Distinction at the Annual Convention & Trade Show. Each commercial building is judged by an impartial panel on the following criteria: architectural excellence, technical innovation, cost effectiveness/energy efficiency, and calendar days to complete.

HMSI, a licensed general contractor, is a full-service distributor of modular buildings statewide. In business since 1987, HMSI is the leading modular space distributor in Hawai'i with 50 employees at its local office in Campbell Industrial Park. Its subsidiary, Alaska Modular Space, Inc. serves Alaska.

HMSI distributes factory-built mobile offices, storage containers and custom modular buildings. The structures are pre-constructed and delivered in modules, either complete, or assembled on site. In addition to the sales and leasing of the trailer and container fleets, customized units have been used for: community and recreational centers, medical clinics, computer rooms, communication shelters, training centers, classrooms and laboratories. The spaces can be built pre-wired for high-tech industry.

Some of HMSI's clients include Alexander & Baldwin, Castle & Cooke, Aloha Airlines, Kiewit Pacific, Young Brothers, the State of Hawai'i, Bank of Hawai'i, and the United States Army.
